EVERYBODY'S DOCTOR,

By ROBERT A. GUNN, M. D.

Everybody's Doctor contains 684 octavo pages and is printed on fine paper handsomely bound. It is sold at the low price of three ($3) dollars a copy, so as to bring it within the reach of all. The work differs from all other books on Domestic Medicine in having the diseases systematically arranged, according to their classification. Everything is described in the plainest possible language, and the prescriptions are written out in plain English, so that they can be employed by any intelligent reader.

Druggists will find this book of great advantage in aiding them to give advice when asked to do so.

Dentists will find much information in it that will prove valuable to themselves and their patients.

Teachers will be better prepared for the performance of their duties in the school room by studying it.

Parents will find it a reliable adviser in everything relating to the rearing of their children.

Every family can save fifty times the price of the book every year, by consulting it.

It is complete in all its parts, and is the most recent book of the kind published.

The book will be sent free by mail or express on receipt of three dollars.

SUMMER VACATIONS.

Our ancestors one or two generations back paid no attention to the vacation question. Whether they thought of it at all is doubtful, and if it had been suggested they would probably have laughed at the weakness of the idea and indicted its author for laziness. And it is possible that they did not need it. They worked hard, but with such regularity and respect to the health and strength they possessed, that every effort assisted in their physical development. As the chief employment was agriculture, they obtained holidays on rainy days and a long rest in winter. Hence they did not wear out, but lived to a stout old age, and left healthy and vigorous children as their legacy to the world.

But the conditions of living and working are changed. The industries are no longer agricultural, but of the kind that taxes body and brain to the utmost point of endurance. The man who works without cessation in shop, forge, factory or office, to whom all weather and all seasons are alike, will inevitably wear out unless he calls a halt and commands himself to take a rest. Not for pleasure primarily would he do this, for man disciplined to duty finds his first pleasure in work, and we know of some who accept their vacation with reluctance, taking it like an unpleasant medicine. But once taken rationally, not degenerating into laziness or dissipation, but occupied in some amusement that keeps body and brain active while diverting it from the treadmill task at home, will bring refreshment, new spirits, an energy and clearness of mental vision not known before. The well worn machine has been under repair while off the track; it comes back cleansed, polished and lubricated in all its joints. For weeks and months it will move on again without discovering any of the old friction that gnawed so harshly on brain and nerves.

The poorest man in the world is he who is unable to afford a summer vacation. If he must toil while others rest, to "keep the pot boiling" at home, the thing that he is thus forced to do only adds to his poverty, for sooner or later he will find that resources of vitality are sapped, and his power to labor is gone. What if in ten years he has saved twelve months of time? He will lose it at the end, and it is not unlikely that continuous toil will shorten his life a year for every month that he has saved. A great many men die at fifty-five or sixty because their restless toil brought them to a crisis in their lives for which they were not prepared. As people grow older they need to lengthen their vacations. The worn out brain and nerves and muscles do not then respond so readily to the pleasant feeling of rest as in younger years, when the vital forces are possessed in exuberance, and a day of idleness suffices to throw off the ache and depression of toil. Let the worker take his vacation. He should demand it of his employer as his right, even though he sacrifices his wages for the time being. It will pay him in longer life and protracted power for work, if not in an immediate return of dollars and cents.

POLITICS IN IOWA.

General Weaver Believes the Republicans Will be Defeated.

General Weaver of Iowa is in Chicago, and in an interview said the Greenback party would put a full ticket in the field in Iowa this year, and would probably adopt a prohibition platform, as a majority of the party leaned that way. A convention was called for July 11th, and would be well attended. He thought the result of the election in Iowa was very doubtful. Taking the vote on the prohibition case as the special election last Summer as the basis of an estimate, he could not see how the Republicans could elect their ticket. There was a majority of nearly thirty thousand given for the amendment, and certainly more Democrats and Greenbacks voted for it than there was a majority. But that was a non-partisan election, while now the Republican ticket would have to depend entirely upon the Prohibition element in the party for success. The temperance Democrats would vote their own ticket to a man and the Greenbacks theirs, and in view of the immense defection of the Republicans, owing to the Prohibition plank in the platform, where the majority for the Republicans would come from he could not see. He thought the Democrats would also gain votes on the free trade issue as well.

"Senator Dawes," said a reporter in Washington, "what is the leading issue in Massachusetts?" "Butler," Mr. Dawes replied. "What other issues are there?" "Butler." "Who will be the Democratic nominee for President?" "Butler—if he be re-elected in the Fall."

THE OHIO CONTEST.

Speaker Keifer Thinks the Republicans Will Carry the State—Political Gossip.

General Keifer, Speaker of the last House of Representatives, says: "I think Ohio quite safe for the Republicans. It will not be an easy contest, but when the vote can be got out, there is no doubt of a Republican success. Last year the canvass was a languid one, and the Democrats carried the State, though they polled 50,000 less votes than when the Republicans were successful. Last year, when members of Congress were elected, the canvass was conducted on State issues. This year, with only State officers to elect national issues enter entirely into the canvass."

"Has consolidation of internal revenue districts raised any bad feeling among the Republicans of Ohio?"

"No. Of course, when men are put out of office they are not always pleased. The general feeling is that the President had done well in this matter."

"Do you think he is a candidate for renomination?"

"I have not the least idea. Although I have been about him a good deal, I have never heard him say anything on the subject one way or the other."

"Who do you think will be chosen in the Speakership contest?"

"I am under the impression that Randall will be elected. He is the shrewdest worker, and will not go about abusing everybody, and when the caucus is held he will turn up with the most votes."

Being asked who was to be the next Republican President, Keifer replied: "Old Tecumseh Sherman; you can put that right down."

The Doomed Trade Dollar.

The trade dollar has now become the standing joke of New York city, and few pecuniary transactions from the least to the greatest pass without some sneering reference to the ostracized 420 grains of silver. Brokers are apparently entering into wholesale speculations. "Trade dollars wanted," is now a frequent sign in the windows, and the "Highest market price paid for trade dollars," and advertisements to the same effect are inserted in the papers. Assistant United States Treasurer Action advises everybody to hold on to their trade dollars, as the next Congress must take steps for their redemption. "The trade dollar," he said, "contains 420 grains, while two half dollars contain but 353 8-10 grains. The profit in changing the trade dollar into two half dollars is about eight cents. This indicates what the Government could do with trade dollars. It can change them into halves and quarters."

WEALTHY COLORED MEN.

Some Comfortable Fortunes Accumulated Before and Since the War.

The Lounger on the Avenue (says a Washington correspondent) tells the following story: "Those who see the typical colored citizen, in the boot-blacker or as an artistic operator with the whitewash brush, will be surprised to learn that among them, north and south, are some very wealthy men. The richest colored man in America is probably Mr. Aristide Marie, of New Orleans. He was a large slave-owner before the war, and his income from his property in New Orleans is not less than $40,000 a year. Besides this, he has a large personal estate consisting of first-class securities. Mr. Marie is a man of fine accomplishments, a graduate of one of the best institutions of France, and lives abroad about half of each year. Mr. B. Joubert, of Louisiana, is another colored gentleman of handsome fortune, also a former slave-owner, though he, with Mr. Marie, was always free. He is no nearly white that one would scarcely take him to be colored; while Mr. Marie is a very decided brown. The Dumas, pere et fils, of New Orleans, are very rich. Governor Pinchback is also very well off—worth perhaps a quarter of a million. There are half a dozen others who have from $100,000 to $200,000 each. In New York I know of at least a dozen colored men who have from $100,000 to $500,000. There are two who are physicians whose professional incomes are $25,000 a year. Mr. Roselle, a barber in Williamsburg, N. Y., recently died, leaving nearly $500,000. Henry Thomas, 101 years dead winter at the Grand Hotel at Saratoga, and head waiter at the Metropolitan Hotel in New York, is worth $150,000. Dr. McDonald, of New York, is worth $200,000, and Mrs. Glotzel, of Brooklyn, is the wealthiest of them all, her fortune being rated at $1,000,000. John Teuyeka is worth $500,000. The wealthiest colored planter in America died a year or two ago. His name was Ben Montgomery. He began his life as the body-servant of General Joe Davis, a brother of Jefferson Davis. Ben Montgomery owned the Hurricane estate, formerly the property of Joseph and Jefferson Davis, in Claiborne county, Miss. In 1863 he bought it of these gentlemen, giving them $300,000 for it, without the slaves, of course. There are three great cotton plantations in this estate—Palmyra Island, Brierfield and another, the name of which I cannot recall. His crop used to be 1,800 bales of cotton a year, besides corn and other products. Ben Montgomery's credit was as high as that of any other planter of Mississippi, and he had the good-will and respect of all his neighbors. Ex-Senator Bruce is also a very successful planter, and owns two very large and valuable plantations in Coahoma and Bolivar counties, Miss. He is worth at least $100,000, and does not owe a cent to anyone."

TOWN AND COUNTY.

IN AND OUT OF TOWN.

What is Being Said and Done in a Small Way.

B. Reinhart was in town Wednesday. The June reduction of the public debt was $18,089,202.

G. W. Conkling returned yesterday from a trip to the Bay.

An effort is being made to have a Telephone Exchange in Reno.

Mrs. W. H. Joy and family have removed from Washoe to Reno.

E. B. Ryan, Tax Agent of the Central Pacific, was in town yesterday.

Mrs. Perkins will commence to close out her stock Saturday at public auction.

J. H. Rand, of Elko, was a passenger for home on Wednesday morning's train.

G. M. Stewart came down from the Comstock yesterday and registered at the Palace.

Alta has levied an assessment of twenty-five cents per share, delinquent August 7th.

The 4th has gone, but the Episcopal Church sidewalk is still in a dilapidated condition.

Kearney and Maybell were ruled out at the Chicago Anti-Monopoly Convention yesterday.

C. A. Lee, of Franktown, has gone out on the Carson and Colorado road to seek a new home.

Mrs. J. T. Davis, of the Mound House, returned Wednesday morning from a trip to Grass Valley.

It is said that the Tallac House at Lake Tahoe is now turning away visitors, it being full from ground floor to roof.

About sixty Renoites camped out in Dog Valley on the 4th. Returning home the rain storm drenched them to the skin.

Richmond Smith's valuable Gordon setter was run over and killed yesterday morning by a "wild" engine from Truckee.

W. J. Edwards and wife, of Quincy, came in last night, and stopped at the Palace, intending to leave for the Bay this morning.

The Big Pine station, on the Carson and Colorado Railroad, has been named Alvord, in honor of William Alvord, of the Bank of California.

The stock market opened strong yesterday morning but closed weak. Closing prices were about the same as ruled prior to the adjournment.

Road Master Atherton, of the Virginia and Truckee, was in Reno yesterday. New ties are being put in on the road wherever necessary, but the road bed and track is in No. 1 condition all along the line.

R. H. Lindsay goes to Truckee this morning to attend to some legal business for a rich Chinese client. After his business is through with he will pleasantly trip up to Tahoe and remain there a few days.

Uncle John Gibbons, the veteran stage man and President of the Sazerac Lying Club, is again afflicted with rheumatism. The climate of Wyoming does not seem to agree with him, and he intends returning to Tuscarora.

A Verdict For $3,000.

The jury in the Russell-Bergman case yesterday afternoon brought in a verdict for the plaintiff, but it was not recorded for the reason that the plaintiff could not pay the jury fee of $240, and it is a question whether he ever will pay it, because it is believed that he would have difficulty in recovering the judgment, from the fact that Dr. Bergman has nothing visible to levy upon, having some time ago sold all of his property and placed the proceeds with friends in Germany. Although the judgment can not be recorded it is understood that it is for $3,000, and endorsed by 9 of the jury, 3 being in favor of a verdict for the defendant. Some of the jurors, it is said, were in favor of $10,000 damages.

Dr. Bergman has been practicing here for 15 years, and is naturally very much disgusted with the verdict, and thinks the experience he has gained in that period ought to have counted for something. He has been the surgeon for both railroad companies, and has attended to a vast majority of all cases arising from accidents in this county. But in this instance, at least, the jury says he was guilty of malpractice.

The jury was composed of our best citizens, from whom but a righteous verdict was expected. The county may not have to pay them their fees, but it looks very much like it. Plaintiff has been allowed 15 days to raise the money, and secure an enrollment of his judgment.

The Virginia Celebration.

Reno did well by Virginia on the 4th. There were five full car loads up from here, and only a couple from Carson. The celebration at Virginia was not as good as in the olden days, but the streets were thronged with people, and looked gay in their dress of bunting and flags. The procession was not a very lengthy one, but what there was of it was very good. The staff officers and militia made a fair showing, and the Reno Guard held its own with any of them. The Miner's Union was fairly represented. The Car of State was a feature, as it always is, and the "fire ladies" contributed their share. The carriages in the rear contained the officers of the day, and State officers. The procession followed the published line, and passed in review. The exercises at Cooper's Hall were interesting. J. C. Currie's opening remarks were very appropriate. N. W. Rountree read the Declaration in a spirited manner. Miss M. W. Long rendered the poem in a charming and inspiring manner. George H. Morrison delivered an excellent oration, his remarks being brief and to the point. The music by the band was fine. Reno people were treated in a very hospitable manner by the Virginians, and all agreed that they had an enjoyable time, and glad they made the trip.

Theodore Winters California Breeding Farm.

The San Francisco Call, in a two-column article relative to California's fast stock breeding farms, says that still nearer Sacramento Theodore Winters has moved his stock from El Arroyo. It is in five miles of the capital, and one of the finest locations for a breeding farm in the State. He has been so busy in building stables and in improving the place that the christening has been postponed, but with Norfolk and Joe Hooker for sires, Marion, Mattie A., a whole lot of the choicest dams, and a drove of grand looking colts in the fields, there cannot be a much longer delay in selecting a proper name. Mr. Winters intends to construct a training track, which will be a novelty in America, and nearer, in shape, to the courses of England. The circuit will be two miles or more, part of the way undulating with wide sweeping curves, and a level straight run of three-quarters of a mile. The ground is admirably adapted for the purpose, and it will be an innovation which many will be likely to follow. The tendency to "break down" will be greatly reduced, and "condition" more readily acquired.

Lovelock Notes.

The Lovelock correspondent of the Silver State writes that R. H. Parker has leased and opened the Asher Hotel, and is running it in first class style.

W. O. Smith & Co. have opened their new store, which is filled with a fine stock of groceries, dry goods, etc.

N. P. Davis' freight team is loading with machinery for the Bothwell mill at Bernice, which is expected to start up about the middle of this month.

The depot looks as if there were a half dozen manufacturing establishments in the vicinity. The platform is piled high with reapers, mowing machines, headers, rakes, wagons, etc.

Haying has commenced and farmers are busy. Joe Marzen has about 30 men at work in his fields; and Marker Brothers as many more, while other farmers employ from two to six or eight men each. Farm hands are scarce and the alfalfa crop is unusually heavy.

Drummer Licenses.

Since the passage of the new "Drummer License" law by which the State issues licenses to traveling salesmen who wish to do business in Nevada, there has been paid into the State Treasury the sum of $5,700 for licenses. They are classified as follows, Cigars and tobacco, $200; liquors, $3,000; groceries, $600; clothing, $500; jewelry, $200; hardware, $300; notions, $100; crockery, $100. This is up to July 1.

A Delightful Uncertainty.

Frank Perkins is working three horses out at the track and says, "there isn't to be a Fair, he will turn them out. Two or three others have horses ready to put in training, but don't know what to do about it. If Reno intends to have a Fair this Fall it is high time something was done. If not let's say no more about it."

Grand Prize Fire.

The Tuscarora Mining News says about fifty men were thrown out of employment by the burning of the Grand Prize hoisting works. It is hoped that the suspension will prove but temporary.

Insurance Fees.

Up to July 1, 1883, forty-one insurance companies have paid to the State an annual license of $100 each, making a total of $4,100. Of these, thirty-nine are fire and two are life and accident companies.

The most healthy and popular drink of the season is the ice cold soda water, sparkling with purest gas and flavored with true, delicate fruit syrups, to be had only at Queen's Soda Fountain.

THE NORTHERN INDIAN SCARE.

The Piutes Declare Themselves Friendly—The Scare Over.

The Lakeview (Oregon) Examiner, of the 28th ult., says the latest reports it has regarding the movements of the Indians, tend to dissipate any fears of an outbreak soon. Maj. Wells of Ft. Bidwell says that he does not anticipate any trouble. The scouting party sent from Bidwell has not returned from Harney valley. Messrs. Wilson and Alexander of Warner valley say they have no reason to fear an outbreak, and their place is the most exposed of any in that section. There have been rumors of an Indian powwow in the vicinity of Stein Mountain, but whether this is true or not the Examiner has not been able to learn. There is a good deal of apprehension among the settlers of Harney valley, and one family became so alarmed at signs of Indians in their vicinity that they picked up all their effects and traveled all night to get in a less exposed situation. The Indians in the vicinity of Lakeview who left so suddenly about two weeks ago have nearly all returned, and the probability of trouble seems to be much lessened.

The following letter which was written to Mr. Sanders of Bidwell at the dictation of Capt. Dick and Lee Winnemucca, by some one living at Eagleville in Surprise valley, was telegraphed to Lakeview Thursday morning by Maj. Wells, commanding officer at Fort Bidwell:

EAGLEVILLE, Cal., June 25, 1883.

Mr. Sanders Ft. Bidwell Cala—Dear Sir:—Capt. Dick and Lee Winnemucca are at my house and they want me to write to you and say to the people of Bidwell and vicinity that the Piutes of this valley are friendly to the whites. If the Bannocks or any other Indians should make war they are ready and willing to help the whites to clean them out. There are no Piutes on the warpath. You can show this letter to Capt. Wells or this commander of the post at Bidwell. If there is any trouble it will be caused by some bad Indians who are not under control of the tribe or it will be in retaliation to the acts of some bad white men at the same. Signed, DICK and LEE WINNEMUCCA, Piutes.

Frogs.

While in Dog Valley on the 4th Chamberlain gathered up about forty frogs, jumped them into two pickle bottles, brought them back home safely, and launched them into his fountain reservoir in the little Oasis. Dog Valley frogs are miserable critters, and neither have any of the semblance of Mark Twain's jumpers, nor of the French kind which make good soap, as is evidenced by the fact that about twenty of them stampeded yesterday, and are now skylarking around town. No reward will be paid for the return of the lost ones. The remaining twenty held an indignation meeting last evening, and agreed to make it very lively around the Depot Hotel between now and the next 4th of July.

Fire at Camp 18.

A fire broke out in the boarding house at Camp 18, C. P. R. R., night before last, destroying the boarding house and one adjoining, the former occupied by a Mr. Ware, and the latter by S. A. Hamlin and family, formerly of Reno. These occupants had barely time to escape with their lives. All of the household goods and clothing was burned. Many here sympathize deeply with them, and are ready to extend a helping hand.

I. O. F. Notice.

There will be a special meeting of Truckee Lodge No. 14, Friday evening, July 6, at 8 o'clock sharp, for receiving reports of retiring officers and installation of officers elected. Members of Reno Lodge No. 19 and transient Bros. cordially invited. By order J. C. SMITH, N. G. F. C. Updike, Rec. Sec'y.

HARD LUMPS IN BREAST.

Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.: Dear Sir.—I wrote you some time ago that I thought I had a cancer. There was a large lump in my breast as large as a walnut, and had been there four months. I commenced taking your "Golden Medical Discovery," "Favorite Prescription" and "Pellets" in June, and the lump is gone. Yours gratefully, Mrs. R. R. Clark.

A splendid stock of fresh garden, field and flower seeds just received at Osburn & Shoemaker's.

Osburn & Shoemaker have just received from the manufacturer in the East a large lot of Royal St. John Sewing Machines, which they are selling at prices below what other sewing machines can be sold for, as they get them directly from the manufacturer and pay no middle-men profits. These are fast becoming the leading machines. Call and see them.

The best known remedy for coughs and colds is the Infallible Cough Mixture prepared by Osburn & Shoemaker.

For dressing the hair, and beautifying it when gray nothing is as satisfactory as Parker's Hair Balsam.

Advice to Mothers.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain or cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhea, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle. Job. 21-21w-fy.
